

VOL. XXV.—No. 197.

MILLION-DOLLAR BLAZE DESTROYED FIVE PIERS AND MANY FREIGHTERS

Nearly Half a Mile of Waterfront at Weehawken, N. J., Were Laid Waste in One of the Most Spectacular Blazes in Several Years.

STRONG BREEZE CARRIED SPARKS INTO NEW YORK

Burning Embers Rained Down on Ships Necessitating Calling of Crews to Save the Vessels—Many Cities Contributed Fire Fighting Apparatus

Weehawken, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Erie railroad's Weehawken piers and waterfront yards were laid waste early today by one of the most spectacular fires the metropolitan area has witnessed in years.

Five piers, all heavily laden with freight; a five-story floor warehouse; 30 loaded barges; a train of 30 loaded freight cars and another of five oil tanks, were destroyed. Early estimates of the loss ranged from $1,000,000 up. The fire was discovered shortly before midnight on Pier C. Within an hour it had swept over nearly half a mile of the waterfront, illuminating the sky for miles around, and drawing great throngs of spectators to the Jersey and Manhattan sides of the Hudson.

A strong breeze that fanned the flames carried burning embers across the river, showering them down on the New York waterfront and carrying some as far as Times square. Crews of several steamships on the Manhattan side were called out to quench great clusters of blazing embers that rained down on the ships.

One of the doomed piers was leased to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and contained several thousand barrels of crude oil. A series of minor explosions occurred when the flames ate their way into this pier.

Five boats from New York and every available piece of fire apparatus from Hoboken, Jersey City and other New Jersey towns were called out to aid the Weehawken force in its unequal struggle. Three firemen were seriously injured when the roof of one of the piers collapsed under them.

The fire was the third to occur on Erie railroad property within six weeks. No theory as to the origin of today's fire was obtainable.

SMALL HOPE OF RESCUE.

For Iron Workers Buried Under 50 Feet of Sand.

Wanaque, N. J., Nov. 4.—Laborers working in delays today continued their feverish attempts to reach William Graham of Buffalo, an iron worker, who was buried in 50 feet of sand Wednesday afternoon in a cave-in of a trench being built for a dam foundation. Only faint hope was held, however, that he would be found alive. Compressed air was sent down through a steel pipe in the trench.

WORLD WHEAT CROP BIG.

Excluding Russia's Product It Was 190,000,000 Bushels Over 1920.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Total wheat production this year of the 23 leading wheat growing countries of the world, excluding Russia, reached 2,852,825,000 bushels, or approximately 100,000,000 bushels more than in 1920, according to latest available estimates reported today by the department of agriculture. For next year's crop the department reported generally favorable conditions throughout the northern hemisphere for winter wheat sowing.

WELL KNOWN THEATRE MAN.

Harry N. Farren Died at Lynn, Aged 56 Years.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 4.—Harry N. Farren, widely known in theatrical circles, died here today, aged 56 years. He was for many years connected with amusement houses in Boston and had managed many traveling companies. He came here last spring to take charge of a local playhouse.

CHEAPER LIVING IN MANCHESTER

Retail Food Prices Dropped One Per Cent in Month.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Retail food prices decreased during the month ending Oct. 15, according to department of labor statistics in seven cities out of 12, where investigations are maintained. The largest price decreases amounted to one per cent over the previous month, and were noted in Manchester, N. H., New Haven, Portland, Me., Richmond and Washington.

Dr. Harvey Wiley to Have Cataract Operation.

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Washington, noted chemist and pure food expert, is to undergo an operation today for removal of a cataract from one of his eyes.

ITALY PAYS TRIBUTE TO ITS UNKNOWN DEAD

Body Placed in Victor Emmanuel Monument—King and Royal Family Were Present.

Rome, Nov. 4.—Italy's unknown soldier this morning found final sepulchre in the Victor Emmanuel monument, "the altar of the country," exactly under the allegorical figure representing Rome. King Victor Emmanuel and the royal family were the chief mourners in the solemn ceremony.

The body was transported from the Church of Santa Maria degli Angeli in formal procession.

Crowds lined the route and massed against the marching troops so solidly that it was with difficulty that the soldiers held their positions.

The cortege at last reached Piazza Venezia, taking its place before the monument and there eight non-commissioned officers lifted the coffin from the gun carriage and carried it up the two short flights of steps to the place of burial.

The casket was then introduced into the place allotted for it and then by a hydraulic contrivance the door of heavy stone was closed. The "unknown soldier" reposed in his last resting place at that moment bells of the various churches throughout the capital began pealing and artillery at the various stations in and about Rome fired salutes. The ceremony was ended.

LLOYD GEORGE STILL HAS HOPES OF COMING

To Take Leadership of British Delegation at Armaments Conference.

London, Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press.) Prime Minister Lloyd George still hopes it will be possible to carry out before long his intention of going to Washington, and taking the leadership of the British delegation at the armaments conference, declared Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, in the House of Commons today.

Mr. Chamberlain made this declaration in speaking in the debate on the forthcoming Washington conference brought out by a resolution introduced by John Robert Clynes, Stephen Waish, J. P. Thomas, Arthur Henderson and Thomas Shaw, laborite leaders. It read:

"That this House warmly approves of the meeting of the international conference at Washington and trusts that a supreme effort will be made to arrive at such measures of agreement as will secure a substantial and progressive reduction of the crushing burden of armaments."

"The House was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

"The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. He indebted to America for the convening of conference. The league of nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

SOLDIER TOLD SEN. WATSON

And a Scaffold Guard Told the Soldier 21 Men Had Been Hanged

WITHOUT TRIAL, SAYS THE SENATOR

Senator Edge Severely Criticized Senator Watson

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, told the Senate today that his charge that 21 American soldiers had been hanged in France without trial had been based on the statement of a soldier who said he had seen the gallows and had been told by the scaffold guard that this number of men had been hanged.

Soon after Senator Watson presented the basis for his charges, favorable committee report was made on the resolution authorizing the special committee appointed to inquire into the charges to subpoena witnesses and papers.

When the Senate convened an hour earlier than usual to take up the Watson charges, Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, opened with severe criticism of the Georgia senator for attempting to place in the Congressional Record yesterday a photograph of a gallows said to have been used by the army in France.

Senator Edge said that Mr. Watson had not requested publication of the article printed with the photograph in a Paris, N. J., newspaper. The article showed, Mr. Edge added, that it was used for a legal execution after a court martial for an attack on a seven-year-old French girl, who died from the effects of the assault.

Senator Edge asked whether Senator Watson sought to justify his charges of illegal executions without trial by presenting the photograph of a gallows used in a court martial execution.

Replying to the New Jersey senator, Senator Watson referred to the picture showing the hanging of the negro for an attack on a little French girl and demanded:

"Since when has it become legal to disgrace the uniform of the American army by hanging it at the end of a halter?"

The Georgia senator called attention to the casualty lists issued during the war there appeared the phrase: "that foul crime of hanging," and asked what were those crimes?

"We are just now beginning to find out," he declared.

Taking up the case of the soldier Frye, who was killed by a sentry, the speaker declared he had a constituent in Georgia, who saw the commission of "that foul crime of hanging," and that man ever committed a foul and that his affidavit would be presented to the Senate as soon as it could reach Washington.

Senator Watson took up the statement of Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, that the senator's charges were "preposterous and incredible."

"Little Newt had to get in," said Senator Watson, laughing. "Poor little Newt."

TWO BEER PERMITS.

Were Granted To-day by Federal Commissioner Hayes.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Prohibition Commissioner Hayes approved today the first two applications from brewers for permits to manufacture and sell beer for medical purposes.

The applications were from Joseph Schlitz of Milwaukee and Fiel Brothers of New York, and officials said the permits for them to engage in the medical beer business would be forwarded at once.

Other applications from brewers for permits, officials said, would be acted upon rapidly and where there was no evidence of prior violation of the law or irregularity in the preparations for dealing in medical beer the necessary permits would be forthcoming.

Before the distribution of medical beer to the sick can begin, Commissioner Hayes explained, both physicians and druggists must obtain permits to enable them to prescribe and sell it. Applications for these permits, he added, the made to state directors and issued by them.

In connection with prescriptions for beer, Mr. Hayes added, a point yet to be decided is whether a physician is limited to the 100 prescriptions every three months as is now the rule, or whether under the new regulations he is entitled to more prescriptions for beer.

WEEKS RECOMMENDS PARDON FOR FIVE

Who are Serving Life Sentences for Murder of Capt. George Lance.

field of British Army.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—Pardon for five American soldiers charged by court martial with murder of Captain George Lance of the British army, in Germany last year, has been recommended by Secretary Weeks. The men, James A. O'Dell, Roy O. Youngblood, George Van Guilder, Carl J. Bryan and Jim B. Richardson, are serving life sentences in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

SHIP BEING CONVOYED.

Four-Masted Schooner Isabel C. Harris Is Loaded for Port.

Boston, Nov. 4.—The four-masted schooner Isabel C. Harris, reported yesterday in distress off Nantuxet lightship, is heading for port under her own sail, the coast guard cutter Ananias reported today. The commander of the cutter, James A. O'Dell, said the schooner, the message did not indicate the Harris' immediate destination. The Harris is bound from Norfolk for Bangor, Me.

WAS VICTIM OF ASSASSIN

Premier Hara of Japan Was Stabbed to Death at Tokio

ATTACK TOOK PLACE AT R. R. STATION

The Assassination Comes at Dramatic Moment in World

Tokio, Nov. 4. By the Associated Press.—Premier Hara was fatally stabbed in the breast today at the railroad station in Tokio.

The assassination of Premier Hara comes at a dramatic moment when the Japanese delegation is assembling for the Washington conference and when Japan is intensely interested in the international issues in which Premier Hara has until now taken such an important part. He had been urged to head the delegation to Washington and for some time had the matter under consideration but finally decided that his services would be better employed at home during the discussions at Washington.

He frequently addressed the Japanese diet concerning the serious work ahead for Japan at Washington, and on Oct. 6 he expressed the view that Japan's chief aim would be to put an end to race barriers.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home under the direction of Prohibition enforcement Officer Frank Lewis and other officers. It is understood they found about 500 gallons of wine and some other intoxicating ingredients, together with some implements that might be used in the manufacture of the wine.

The respondent, who is a well-known resident of Bethel, was arrested following a raid made last week at his home